

THE NEEDS OF ALASKA.

Sec'y Bliss Mentioned Them In His Report.

TERRITORIES WANT STATEHOOD.

Their Reports Urge Immediate Recognition—Two Hundred and Sixty-five Thousand Pension Claims of All Classes Pending—Increase in School Children.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The annual report of the Secretary of the Interior Bliss reviewed in detail the progress of pension, Indian, land, patent, educational and territorial affairs. Reviewing the gradual diminution of the public land area, Secretary Bliss says:

Of three hundred and odd million acres of desert land requiring irrigation to render them valuable farming lands, the available water supply is sufficient for only 71,500,000 acres, leaving 260,676,000 acres suitable only for grazing purposes. There are 30 forest reservations embracing an estimated area of 40,719,474 acres.

The Indians are declared to have made substantial progress and the Chipewyan outbreak was the only serious disturbance of the year. Referring to this trouble the report points to Commissioner of Indian Affairs Jones' successful efforts in bringing about the surrender of the Indians and says the origin of the trouble is now under joint investigation by the departments of the interior and of justice.

Reviewing pension matters, Secretary Bliss reports 635,000 claims of all classes pending, and says a separate division has been organized for the adjudication of claims growing out of the war with Spain. These soldiers will receive their pensions under the general law for permanent disabilities contracted in the service.

He also concurs in the recommendation for the creation of a commission to revise the pension laws and regulations in the interest of a future reliable, intelligent and uniform practice.

The advancement among educational lines is outlined by an increase of over 250,000 of school pupils in the United States for the fiscal year 1896-7 over the previous one, but yet the total average amount of schooling per individual for the whole United States, measured by the present standard, does not quite equal five years of 200 days each for each inhabitant. The total number of school pupils in the country, in elementary public and private schools, colleges, universities, high schools and academies, is set at 16,255,093.

The reindeer and their Lapland drivers in Alaska have largely passed into the service of the postoffice department and are now being distributed for carrying the Yukon mail up and down the valley of the Yukon through 1,000 miles of scattered mining settlements in the wilderness.

Secretary Bliss, summing up the report of Governor Brady of Alaska, calls attention to the difficulty of preventing the smuggling of liquor into Alaska, it being impossible to enforce present regulations without a fleet of revenue cutters and steam launches to patrol the tortuous channels of Southeast Alaskan waters.

The governor reports a consensus of opinion in favor of a stringent high license law, which would tend to stamp out smuggling and liquor selling to the natives. The governor believes that Alaska should and can pay revenue into the United States treasury.

Under a high license law he estimates that the liquor traffic would yield an annual revenue of not less than $200,000; a tax of a few cents per case of salmon would produce from $35,000 to $50,000; 10 cents per ton on wharfage collected during the past year would have yielded $100,000. He recommends, however, that taxation be deferred until land laws shall have been provided.

Many sections of Alaska, it is shown, are suitable for agricultural purposes. Representation in congress for the citizens of Alaska is strongly urged.

Many Americans who have located mining claims in the northwest territory have abandoned them, and have settled on the Alaskan side of the international boundary line, where a new town, Eagle City has sprung up. There has been great development in quartz mining in Southeast Alaska and along the coast as far as Unalaska. Coal has been discovered near the Upper Yukon, the Tanana and on Prince William sound.

Public buildings at Sitka are urgently needed for the accommodation of the officials. It is recommended that congress appropriate $110,000 for the erection of a penitentiary and other buildings.

An appropriation of $60,000 for the education of children in Alaska is earnestly recommended.

Attention is called to the fact that the rapid increase of the number of vessels plying Alaskan waters necessitates the erection of many light houses. Other recommendations include a monthly mail service between Sitka and Unalaska, cable connection between the United States and Alaska, enlargement of Administrative authority and extension of the land laws to at least the settled portions. The other territorial reports all claim material progress and urge immediate recognition as states.

Assistant Secretary of the Interior

Webster Davis, in his annual report, says the 12,681 appeals from the pension bureau and 626 motions for reconsideration filed during the year make up a number unprecedented in any one year or any two years in the history of the board of pension appeals.

The proportionate increase, still continues, and on Oct. 1 last there were 11,820 such appeals and motions pending, and Secretary Bliss concurs in Assistant Secretary Davis' recommendations for providing for three additional members of this board; for additional legislation amending the act of Aug. 7, 1882, relating to marriages; legislation regulating the payment of pensions to soldiers who deprive their families of the use of the ear because of immoral habits and incompetency; and a legislative amendment in behalf of widows whose husbands died while in the service, death not being the result of any violation of any law, regulation or rule of the military or naval service, death under such conditions to be held to be equivalent to an honorable discharge, as now required.

ROBBERS AT BAY.

Officers Think They Have the Utica Bandits Located in a Cabin Near Centerburg.

NEWARK, Nov. 25.—Officers in pursuit of the robbers who looted the A. J. Wilson bank in Utica of $15,000 think they have the men at bay in a cabin between Rich Hill and Centerburg, in Delaware county. Their horse was thoroughly blown and had been abandoned. It was hired from A. S. Bennett in Mt. Vernon by one of the supposed robbers, who was a large man, weighing about 190 pounds, with dark hair, light r heavy mustache, brown suit and heavy overcoat.

He answers the description of one of the two men pursued by Edward Smoot after the robbery.

Banker Wilson says of the money $800 was in silver, $1,000 in gold, $7,600 in negotiable government bonds, and the rest in paper currency. Sheriff Horton left with a posse of men in hope of intercepting the men, who could not travel fast with the weight they carried.

MAY PROCEED AGAINST HIM.

Blandin's Speech Likely to Result in His Being Cited For Contempt.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 25.—The sensational finish in the disbarment proceedings against State Senator Burke has stirred the legal profession of this city. Ex-Judge Blandin, who so severely arraigned the members of the county bench, is receiving congratulatory telegrams from all over the state for his fearless stand in the matter.

The common pleas judges are greatly wrought up. They will undoubtedly take some action in reference to the matter, but whether to resent it by bringing Judge Blandin up for contempt or to make a statement through the press has not yet been decided. Many attorneys, however, believe that Judge Blandin will be cited to appear for contempt of court. It is said that Judge Ong may take the initiative in this direction.

It is believed that this decision will provoke an internal crisis.

The Carlism organ announces that Don Jaime, after a conference with his father, left Venice upon a mysterious journey, in company with a prominent Carlism leader.

SIGNIFICANT INTERVIEW.

Abarzuza Said Spanish Commission Might Be in Paris For Another Fortnight.

PARIS, Nov. 25.—The Spanish commissioners will likely submit their final answer to the American propositions tomorrow.

The correspondent of The Associated Press asked Senor Abarzuza if the commissions would be able to leave Paris next week with the treaty, and he replied, with a sidelong glance, as though to observe whether his questioner noted the significance of the reply:

"I suppose we shall be here for another fortnight."

"Why?" the Spanish commissioner was asked, "is the opinion expressed so emphatically by a portion of the Paris press that you will decline the $20,000,000, but will sign the treaty with a protest that you do so only under the pressure of superior power?"

"Well it does seem that $20,000,000 is not very satisfactory."

This was the semi-evasive manner in which the Spanish diplomat answered the question.

His questioner continued: "Then, it has been affirmed that Spain will refuse to sign the treaty, decline the money offered and make a protest to the powers and that her commissioners will go home. Is that the most likely result?"

"Ah! but we should not anticipate; we should know day by day what happens day by day."

"And so you anticipate a fortnight more of daily developments here?"

"Ah yes. A fortnight. Perhaps some affairs may be attended to in that time."

MONETARY CHANGES.

Director Roberts Refers to Financial Action by Different Nations to Promote an International Standard.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—In his annual report Mr. George E. Roberts, the director of the mint, said in part:

"The most important events of the fiscal year in the world of government finance have been the consummation of the long planned resumption of specie payments by Russia in gold, the reorganization of the monetary system of Japan with gold as the standard, and the refusal of the government of India to co-operate with the governments of the United States and France in an effort to establish bimetalism by international agreement."

"The gold coinage of the world in 1897 was the largest recorded, amounting in value to $437,719,342, against $195,899,517 in 1896. Of the former sum $146,622,194 was recoinage, and approximately $291,097,148 a net addition to the stock of gold coins. The principal coinage was by the United States, Great Britain, Russia, Germany, Austria-Hungary, France and Japan. The extraordinary coinage of the year is accounted for by the preparations of Russia, Austria-Hungary and Japan for their monetary reforms."

"Throughout the world, among all peoples who are sufficiently civilized and ambitious to have international intercourse, there is manifest a desire to bring their own currencies into definite and stable relations with the money of the peoples with whom they trade."

"If the monetary systems of these countries have no common unit—if each nation, in ignorance or misadventure, prefers an independent system of his own—they will inevitably vary in value to each other, and the profits of the international transaction we are considering are subject to these variations. Such variations are therefore a barrier to trade between the countries." Mr. Roberts said the countries mentioned in the opening paragraph did as they did for these reasons.

At another point, he said: "Nor is there any merit in the plea, sometimes made, that inasmuch as most of a country's business transactions are domestic and only a small percentage of them international, therefore, the relations of its money to the money of other countries is of equally small importance. The truth is that prices in all domestic sales are related to prices in international transactions and cannot be separated from them. The values of all goods that enter into the common consumption of mankind are international, and cannot be affected by monetary legislation. Legislation can alter the value of a local currency, but the owner of goods of world-wide demand simply raises or lowers his price to correspond with the changed value of money."

CIVIL SERVICE EXEMPTIONS.

More Positions Likely to Be Included in President's Expected Order.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The indications are that the new civil service order will be out in a few days. The president has discussed the general scope of the forthcoming exemptions with the members of the cabinet and others and there have been several consultations of late among departmental officials. The exemptions, it is now understood, in addition to those already mentioned, will include members of the board of pension appeals, to which appeals from the action of pension bureau first go; law clerks in the general land office, and among others, per diem employees in the offices of surveyors general.

Some officials in the Indian service are said to be slated for exemption, and a few offices in the postal service, including cashiers and others in postoffices for whose duties the postmasters are held personally responsible, will be included. Private secretaries to chiefs of the bureau also will be taken out of the civil service, but chief clerks and chiefs of divisions are not to be effected.

Neither of these mills, he said, is located in the Ohio valley. He predicted that the consolidation would be accomplished in a short time. There are four concerns in the Wheeling mill district interested in the deal.

Ritchie, president of the board of trade, discussing the subject of British trade before the Croydon chamber of commerce, said he regretted to have to confess that the exports for the year ended with October had decreased £2,600,000, chiefly through the United States tariff.

He said Great Britain was gradually making up the leeway. Since 1891, the exports of the United States have increased 18 per cent, and Great Britain's exports have decreased 5 per cent.

MURDEROUS NEGROES.

Alabama Soldiers Fired Upon White Men, at Anniston.

A NUMBER RECEIVED WOUNDS.

One Negro Killed and Another Fatally Hurt—White Soldiers Clamored For Arms—Two Guards Missing—Several Negroes Nearly Lynched.

ANNISTON, Ala., Nov. 25.—Members of the Third Alabama, a negro regiment, caused great excitement here. Private Gildhart of Company B, Second Arkansas, while returning to camp from town, was shot in the head by a negro soldier, who also stabbed him in the back. Gildhart was taken to a hospital. A little later, a member of the Fourth Kentucky is reported to have been shot on Walnut street by negro soldiers, who lay in a gully, shooting at the white men who passed. Firing was heard in Liberia, the negro quarter of the city. A squad of the provost guard went to investigate.

As it turned the corner of Fifteenth and Fine streets a large crowd of negro soldiers opened fire upon the guard with Springfield rifles. The guard returned the fire, but had few cartridges and soon had to retreat. When reinforcements and ammunition were secured the negroes had disappeared.

Sergeant Dodson, Third Tennessee, was shot in the arm and Private Graham, Third Tennessee, in the stomach. Two members of the provost guard are missing.

White soldiers who were in the city gathered around the provost guard headquarters and begged for guns and ammunition, but were refused. Citizens armed themselves and repaired to the scene of the battle. Mayor Hight had the saloons closed. Several negro soldiers, one with a Springfield that had just been fired, were arrested in various parts of the city and locked up, though it was with difficulty that the infuriated white soldiers and citizens were prevented from wreaking summary vengeance upon them.

Armories of the two local military companies were broken into and every gun and cartridge appropriated by unknown parties. General Colby, commanding the Second brigade, brought in two companies each of the Third Tennessee and Second Arkansas. They scoured the city and carried all soldiers not on duty back to camp. A member of the Fourth Wisconsin is said to have been shot, but the report can not be verified. One negro soldier while under arrest was shot in the arm by a citizen.

A negro soldier was dangerously beaten up by some white soldiers on Tenth street, and this incident is supposed to have caused the riotous actions on the part of negroes who are said to have slipped out of the camp through the guard lines.

Later one negro soldier was brought in dead and another fatally wounded.

Governor Hastings of Pennsylvania was represented by one of his staff.

When the regiment went away it was composed of 1,097 men and 48 officers. One officer, Lieutenant R. V. Beach of New Haven, and 11 men died while in service in Porto Rico, most of them from typhoid fever. Others were furloughed home and 61 were left in hospitals in Porto Rico. WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—In his annual report Mr. George E. Roberts, the director of the mint, said in part:

"The most important events of the fiscal year in the world of government finance have been the consummation of the long planned resumption of specie payments by Russia in gold, the reorganization of the monetary system of Japan with gold as the standard, and the refusal of the government of India to co-operate with the governments of the United States and France in an effort to establish bimetallicism by international agreement."

"The gold coinage of the world in 1897 was the largest recorded, amounting in value to $437,719,342, against $195,899,517 in 1896. Of the former sum $146,622,194 was recoinage, and approximately $291,097,148 a net addition to the stock of gold coins. The principal coinage was by the United States, Great Britain, Russia, Germany, Austria-Hungary, France and Japan. The extraordinary coinage of the year is accounted for by the preparations of Russia, Austria-Hungary and Japan for their monetary reforms."

"Throughout the world, among all peoples who are sufficiently civilized and ambitious to have international intercourse, there is manifest a desire to bring their own currencies into definite and stable relations with the money of the peoples with whom they trade."

"If the monetary systems of these countries have no common unit—if each nation, in ignorance or misled independence, prefers an independent system of his own—they will inevitably vary in value to each other, and the profits of the international transaction we are considering are subject to these variations. Such variations are therefore a barrier to trade between the countries." Mr. Roberts said the countries mentioned in the opening paragraph did as they did for these reasons.

At another point, he said: "Nor is there any merit in the plea, sometimes made, that inasmuch as most of a country's business transactions are domestic and only a small percentage of them international, therefore, the relations of its money to the money of other countries is of equally small importance. The truth is that prices in all domestic sales are related to prices in international transactions and cannot be separated from them. The values of all goods that enter into the common consumption of mankind are international, and cannot be affected by monetary legislation. Legislation can alter the value of a local currency, but the owner of goods of world-wide demand simply raises or lowers his price to correspond with the changed value of money."

CIVIL SERVICE EXEMPTIONS.

More Positions Likely to Be Included in President's Expected Order.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The indications are that the new civil service order will be out in a few days. The president has discussed the general scope of the forthcoming exemptions with the members of the cabinet and others and there have been several consultations of late among departmental officials. The exemptions, it is now understood, in addition to those already mentioned, will include members of the board of pension appeals, to which appeals from the action of pension bureau first go; law clerks in the general land office, and among others, per diem employees in the offices of surveyors general.

Some officials in the Indian service are said to be slated for exemption, and a few officials in the postal service, including cashiers and others in postoffices for whose duties the postmasters are held personally responsible, will be included. Private secretaries to chiefs of the bureau also will be taken out of the civil service, but chief clerks and chiefs of divisions are not to be effected.

THE PROPOSED TINPLATE COMBINE.

Nearly Every Mill in the Country Pledged to Join.

WHEELING, Nov. 25.—In an interview a Wheeling mill magnate who has been prominent in connection with the negotiations looking to the consolidation of all the tinplate mills in the country stated that he was in receipt of information from the combine's headquarters at Chicago to the effect that every mill in the country with but two exceptions is pledged to join in the consolidation.

Neither of these mills, he said, is located in the Ohio valley. He predicted that the consolidation would be accomplished in a short time. There are four concerns in the Wheeling mill district interested in the deal.

DUE TO OUR TARIFF.

A Britisher Pointed Out Falling Off Britain's Export Trade.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Right Hon. Charles T. Ritchie, president of the board of trade, discussing the subject of British trade before the Croydon chamber of commerce, said he regretted to have to confess that the exports for the year ended with October had decreased £2,600,000, chiefly through the United States tariff.

He said Great Britain was gradually making up the leeway. Since 1894, the exports of the United States have increased 18 per cent, and Great Britain's exports have decreased 5 per cent.

Laure Went Down in a Coal Mine.

PARIS, Nov. 25.—With a view of averting a strike of miners at Lens, President Faure, accompanied by his suite, made a personal visit to the town, where he donned miner's clothes and descended into the pit. The president conversed with the men and made a brief speech to them.

A Factory Burned in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—The factory of the Allen B. Wrisley company, makers of soap, at 4985 Fifth avenue, was completely destroyed by fire. It is generally supposed that spontaneous combustion was the cause. The loss is estimated at $105,000.

MURDEROUS NEGROES.

Alabama Soldiers Fired Upon White Men, at Anniston.

A NUMBER RECEIVED WOUNDS.

One Negro Killed and Another Fatally Hurt—White Soldiers Clamored For Arms—Two Guards Missing—Several Negroes Nearly Lynched.

ANNISTON, Ala., Nov. 25.—Members of the Third Alabama, a negro regiment, caused great excitement here. Private Gildhart of Company B, Second Arkansas, while returning to camp from town, was shot in the head by a negro soldier, who also stabbed him in the back. Gildhart was taken to a hospital. A little later, a member of the Fourth Kentucky is reported to have been shot on Walnut street by negro soldiers, who lay in a gully, shooting at the white men who passed. Firing was heard in Liberia, the negro quarter of the city. A squad of the provost guard went to investigate.

As it turned the corner of Fifteenth and Pine streets a large crowd of negro soldiers opened fire upon the guard with Springfield rifles. The guard returned the fire, but had few cartridges and soon had to retreat. When reinforcements and ammunition were secured the negroes had disappeared.

Sergeant Dodson, Third Tennessee, was shot in the arm and Private Graham, Third Tennessee, in the stomach. Two members of the provost guard are missing.

White soldiers who were in the city gathered around the provost guard headquarters and begged for guns and ammunition, but were refused. Citizens armed themselves and repaired to the scene of the battle. Mayor Hight had the saloons closed. Several negro soldiers, one with a Springfield that had just been fired, were arrested in various parts of the city and locked up, though it was with difficulty that the infuriated white soldiers and citizens were prevented from wreaking summary vengeance upon them.

Armories of the two local military companies were broken into and every gun and cartridge appropriated by unknown parties. General Colby, commanding the Second brigade, brought in two companies each of the Third Tennessee and Second Arkansas. They scoured the city and carried all soldiers not on duty back to camp. A member of the Fourth Wisconsin is said to have been shot, but the report can not be verified. One negro soldier while under arrest was shot in the arm by a citizen.

A negro soldier was dangerously beaten up by some white soldiers on Tenth street, and this incident is supposed to have caused the riotous actions on the part of negroes who are said to have slipped out of the camp through the guard lines.

Later one negro soldier was brought in dead and another fatally wounded.

SOLDIERS RETURNED.

First Engineers Arrived From Porto Rico—Twelve Died on the Island.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The United States transport Minnewaska, from Porto Rico, carrying the First regiment of engineers, arrived here. The Minnewaska was docked in Brooklyn and the men provided with overcoats. Today the regiment will be taken to an East river pier, where it will disembark and march to the Eighth regiment armory. The National Society of New England Women will serve a collation, after which 60-days' furlough and transportation home will be given each man. Governor Hastings of Pennsylvania was represented by one of his staff.

When the regiment went away it was composed of 1,097 men and 48 officers. One officer, Lieutenant R. V. Beach of New Haven, and 11 men died while in service in Porto Rico, most of them from typhoid fever. Others were hospitalized home and 61 were left in hospitals in Porto Rico. Of the men who were sick on the return trip 23 were so seriously ill on the arrival of the ship that they were removed to Brooklyn hospitals.

A SERVICE OF THANKS

Held Yesterday In the First Presbyterian Church.

DOCTOR CLARK CRAWFORD

Delivered an Eloquent and Instructive Sermon Upon "Liberty's Flag"—The Principles and Institutions For Which the Banner of This Republic Stands Were Discussed.

The union Thanksgiving services held yesterday morning at the First Presbyterian church were largely attended and were very interesting.

The services were opened by Rev. C. F. Swift, who read a chapter from Acts and Rev. J. R. Greene read a psalm. Dr. J. C. Taggart read the president's proclamation and offered a fervent and eloquent prayer. The congregation sang "America" and "I Need Thee Every Hour."

Dr. Clark Crawford, pastor of the First M. E. church then delivered an interesting sermon from the subject: "Liberty's Flag," and quoted the following passages of scripture:

"Thou hast given a banner to them that fear thee that it may be displayed because of the truth." Psalm lx, 4.

"Let the people praise thee, oh God, let all the people praise thee." Psalm lxxvii, 8.

After a brief account of the way that flag came into use the speaker proceeded to discuss the principles, the institutions and the history for which the banner of this republic stands. "That banner is the token of liberty—not lawlessness, but orderly, constitutional liberty. It was consecrated for its mission by men who dedicated every thing to the right of all men to freedom. It represents all the truths and purposes that brought together the colonial congress; all that patriots meant when, looking into the face of gloom and death, they signed the Declaration of Independence; all they meant by the bloody Revolution and expressed in the immortal constitution. It was an ordinance of freedom, of the people, by the people and for the people. That it still means and must mean till the end of time.

"Think of the magnificent and varied domain over which it waves. It is so vast as to be forever creating in the minds of Americans images of vastness. We have a territory so extensive and so fertile that we could clothe and feed the population of the whole earth. Consider the wonderful material prosperity existing under the folds of that banner. It reduces to insignificance the romances and realities of all the past. Ride across the continent and witness, notwithstanding the grumbling, the evidences of prosperity. Compare the olden days with ours—the olden days of slow travel and log huts. Prosperity does not lie in that direction. These are the best days that have ever been. There never was a time, thanks to economy enforced by financial stringency and to restored confidence, when the people were so nearly out of debt. Notice, too, the marvelous achievements of inventive and applied genius. Let us take all these blessings as the gift of God, and exclaim, 'Let the people praise thee, O God, let all the people praise thee.'

"Then under our flag exists something which, in such excellence, can be found nowhere else on the globe, viz., our system of universal education. We have placed the free common school in the van of our institutions, saying, Now let education be free as the air of heaven, for it is necessary to the civil, social and religious rights of us all that the American citizen should know something. In no event can we suffer the schoolhouse to rot down, or vandal hands to destroy it.

"Next door above the schoolhouse under the flag is the American home. The experience of the race, together with the teaching of the Bible, shows that the marriage of one man to one woman is the soil out of which patriotism grows. Anything that threatens the integrity of the home is dangerous. Therefore, if I had the power, I would shut the mouth and break the pen of every free love charlatan who tampers with the marital relation. Thank God for the multitude of pure, happy homes over which the flag floats. May the gospel of righteousness make every American fireside a holy sanctuary.

"It need scarcely be said that the history of the flag under whose ample folds we have these priceless blessings has always been on the side of rational liberty. Under it Washington rode with chivalric love of freedom for every human being. Under it Perry, Farragut and Dewey fought and fought for liberty. Under it Lincoln wrote the Emancipation Proclamation. Under it Grant, Sherman, Sheridan and the boys in blue waged war for the oppressed until it won again its place in the air and became glorious forever. England could not conquer it, and Spain should have profited by her example. It never once was lowered to despotism, and no wonder, for it represents a genius for man-building as well as for man-ruling. Under that genius feeble colonies have grown into great states, and these states have become the mightiest nation on earth, whose spirit of liberty is felt everywhere."

Here Mr. Crawford related an incident illustrating the power of the American flag over Russian political prisoners at St. Petersburg.

"A more striking and recent illustration," he said, "is found nearer home. Just off our coast yonder live a people who, until recently, were the subjects of a nation whose history has been more cruel than even that of Russia. Their existence has been a tragedy. Until a few years ago they had the old idea that no political power in any way belonged to the people. But distance from the decadent monarchy and nearness to this land of liberty finally disenchanted their minds of that belief. We imbued them with republican thought and principles until they learned that stable society is not founded on nobles and thrones, but on the rights of man. Then for these rights they contended, first through peaceful means and afterward through bloody wars, in which they revealed heroism never surpassed. In the spirit of our fathers, they cried, 'Give us liberty or give us extermination.' Their appeal reached and swayed the heart of the American people as the storm sways the ocean. Our noble President, with the forbearance and magnanimity of a Lincoln, exhausted patience and diplomacy in efforts to induce Spain to be guided by reason and conscience without our intervention. You remember how at last, not in the interest of any base passion, but in defense of the rights of universal man, Old Glory went to Cuba, first by way of Manila, and then by way of San Juan and Santiago, saying, 'Liberty, come forth! All hail to free Cuba!' You remember that God made the triumph of our arms entirely glorious. Brave men did not return, but they perished in liberty's cause under liberty's flag. And to their eternal honor, the Pearl of the Antilles will henceforth shine more lustreously; industry shall thrive; schools shall flourish; churches with a pure religion shall spring up, and on the ruins of Spanish rule shall stand fraternity, equity and freedom.

"With the incomparable victory of our banner in this conflict an immense history, both for this republic and the world, began. Steam and electricity have brought all nations into one neighborhood, and you might as well try to prevent the tides of ocean as try to prevent the larger influence and movement of our flag in the neighborhood affairs. Already the popular impulse, born of our triumph over tyranny, has gone everywhere. One word that impulse speaks—liberty. All men have heard it. Let us thank God for permitting us to give wider swing to the immortal blessing of human freedom. And if in addition to Hawaii, Porto Rico and Guam, it is his manifest will that we should take the Philippines in the interest of civilization, let our banner follow where he leads, for where he leads is dawn. I have a vision. Washington lives again. He sees the achievements of a century under freedom's flag and exclaims: 'Tis the star-spangled banner! O long may it wave, O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

"Finally, while our flag represents no creed, under its protection religion flourishes as under no other flag on earth. There are 21,000,000 Christians under its folds today, and the cause for which they stand was never so potential as now. After all our unexampled national greatness and prosperity are due more to the power of religion than to anything else. The men who founded the republic were men who believed in God, and in the measure of our fidelity to the God they worshipped we have flourished. There are yet many evils over which we weep and for whose death we constantly pray, but there are, too, many things over which we rejoice and give thanks."

GEN. SHAFTER'S LESSON.

It Was on This Occasion That He Learned to Decide For Himself.

Here is a story that the Cleveland Leader proffers about General Shafter. It centers about his salient trait of being pugnacious, just as all current and well invented anecdotes of "Fighting Bob" Evans revolve around some incandescent bit of profanity. But the story runs thus, as the general is made to tell it:

"Once, when I was a boy at school—I wasn't more than 10 or 11 years old at the time—our teacher called up the class in mental arithmetic and began putting questions, beginning with the pupil at the head of the row and going down toward the foot, until some one could give the correct answer. I stood somewhere near the middle, and next below me was a boy who was three years older and considerably ahead of me in the various studies that we had. 'How much are 13 and 9 and 8?' the teacher asked.

"While one after another of the boys and girls ahead of me guessed and failed to get it right I figured out what I thought the answer ought to be. The question had almost got to me when I heard the big boy just below me whispering, apparently to himself, but loud enough for me to hear, '29, 29, 29.'

"Finally the pupil above me failed to answer correctly, and then it was my turn.

"'Well, Willie,' said the teacher, 'let's see if you know the answer. Come, now, be prompt.'

"I cocked my head up proudly on one side, cast a triumphant look at those who had 'fallen down' on the problem and said, so that everybody in the schoolroom could hear me:

"'Twenty-nine!'

"'Next. How many are 13 and 9 and 8?'

"'Aw!' said the big boy below me, with a look of supreme contempt at the rest of us, '30!'

"That was what I had figured it to be myself, and when the teacher said 'correct' I wanted to fight.

"I didn't assault him, but I made up my mind right there and then to depend on my own judgment in the future, and ever since then when I have had anything to do and had figured out what I considered the best way to do it I have gone ahead, remembering, when people criticised or tried to throw me off the track, how that big boy made a fool of me in the mental arithmetic class."

The steamer will lay outside the bar at Marianao and land her men and stores on lighters, which will take them ashore at the new wharf.

General Greene and staff will ride out from the Inglaterra hotel on horseback and receive the party and superintend the landing.

"How much are 13 and 9 and 8?" the teacher asked.

"While one after another of the boys and girls ahead of me guessed and failed to get it right I figured out what I thought the answer ought to be. The question had almost got to me when I heard the big boy just below me whispering, apparently to himself, but loud enough for me to hear, '29, 29, 29.'

"Finally the pupil above me failed to answer correctly, and then it was my turn.

"Well, Willie," said the teacher, 'let's see if you know the answer. Come, now, be prompt.'

"I cocked my head up proudly on one side, cast a triumphant look at those who had 'fallen down' on the problem and said, so that everybody in the schoolroom could hear me:

"Twenty-nine!"

"Next. How many are 13 and 9 and 8?"

"Aw!" said the big boy below me, with a look of supreme contempt at the rest of us, '30!'

"That was what I had figured it to be myself, and when the teacher said 'correct' I wanted to fight.

"I didn't assault him, but I made up my mind right there and then to depend on my own judgment in the future, and ever since then when I have had anything to do and had figured out what I considered the best way to do it I have gone ahead, remembering, when people criticised or tried to throw me off the track, how that big boy made a fool of me in the mental arithmetic class."

SPLENDID UNION SERVICES

Were Conducted at the Christian Church,
the Addresses Being Heard by an Unusually Large Audience—Sudden Death.
All the News of Wellsville.

Wellsville gave itself over to a general observance of Thanksgiving, and little business was transacted yesterday.

Union services at the Christian church were largely attended, and were among the best in the history of the city. Rev.
H. Newton Miller was in charge, and Rev. C. L. V. McKee made the opening prayer, Reverend Gamertsfelder reading the lesson. The first address was made by Doctor Holtz and was eloquent, his subject being "Our Nation." He was followed by Reverend Thrapp who spoke of the "Home." He too had carefully prepared his address. Reverend Littell spoke of the "Church." He touched upon its power in the nation and the home.

A pleasing feature of the service was the excellent music rendered by the choir. It was in charge of Mrs. and Miss Duck. A liberal collection was taken, and later given to the poor.

scored a touchdown just as the umpire called time.

WARM THANKSGIVING.

Football Game Postponed Until Christmas, at Santiago—Americans Observed the Day.

SANTIAGO, Nov. 25.—Santiago celebrated its first thanksgiving since the American occupation. All the ships in the harbor were decorated with bunting and the officers entertained friends at dinner. The day was practically unobserved by the Cubans, except those employed in the government offices. A football game, which had been arranged between teams from the Fifth regulars and Fifth volunteers, was postponed until Christmas, the weather being still too warm for such sport.

Several officers stationed at Guantanamo and Manzanillo, who had secured leaves of absence, spent the day with friends here. All the regiments celebrated as well as possible under the circumstances. Turkeys were few, but hopes are entertained by the Americans that their friends in the north will ship turkeys to them in time for their Christmas dinner.

THANKSGIVING IN BERLIN.

Americans Had a Banquet—Jackson Told of a German's Praise of Our Soldiers.

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—A thanksgiving dinner, attended by 200 Americans, was given at the Kaiserhof. John B. Jackson, secretary of the American embassy, presided at the banquet and proposed toasts to President McKinley and Emperor William, both of which were received with cheers.

President M. E. Gates of Amherst college made an address upon the significance of national holidays. In the course of his remarks Mr. Jackson said a great German chief, upon reading the report of the battle of Santiago, expressed unqualified admiration of the spirit of the American soldiers, who, though knowing that the enemy was armed with better weapons, never for a moment doubted that they would win the victory.

Major General Wheaton, U. S. A., retired, said he hoped congress now realized the fact that the United States needed an army commensurate with the requirements of a great nation.

HEARD A THANKSGIVING SERMON

President and Abner McKinley Attended Church—Dinner at White House.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Thanksgiving day was observed in the usual manner. All the executive departments and business houses were closed. The president, accompanied by his brother, Abner McKinley, attended divine service at the Metropolitan Methodist church and listened to a sermon by the Rev.
Dr. Bristol, the pastor, who preached from Exodus, his text being: "Behold

I send an angel before thee." Dr.
Bristol, referring to the war, said that never before had Providence permitted a people to wage a more just and humane war—a war which had brought new honor, new liberties, new life, new responsibilities and new honors to those who now rejoice. The people he said should be grateful for future prospects, as well as for past blessings.
The remainder of the day the president spent at home. He ate his Thanksgiving dinner with Mrs. McKinley and his brother Abner McKinley and wife, who were visiting at the White House.

ANGLO-AMERICAN FRIENDSHIP.

Thanksgiving Banquet in London Under Entwined Flags of Two Nations.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The Thanksgiving banquet of the American society in London, which was held at the Hotel
Oceil, was a glorification of Anglo-American friendship. Three hundred Americans and their English guests sat at a table under the entwined flags of the two nations. Two notable speeches were made, one by Mr. Henry White, the American charge d'affaires, and the other by Sir Edwin Arnold, who was supposed to be nearly at the point of death from paralysis, but who dragged himself into the banquet hall against the orders of his physicians, leaning on the arm of his Japanese wife and supported by a cane. The Earl of Hals-bury, lord chancellor, also spoke.

J. L. Taylor, president of the society, proposed toasts to her majesty, the queen, and to President McKinley, and Mr. R. C. VanDuser, the secretary, read President McKinley's Thanksgiving proclamation. W. M. Osborne, the American consul general, in proposing the health of the charge d'affaires paid a high tribute to Mr. White's long services.

Thanksgiving Services at Nice.

Mr. Adamson preached.

WARM THANKSGIVING.

Football Game Postponed Until Christmas, at Santiago—Americans Observed the Day.

SANTIAGO, Nov. 25.—Santiago celebrated its first thanksgiving since the American occupation. All the ships in the harbor were decorated with bunting and the officers entertained friends at dinner. The day was practically unobserved by the Cubans, except those employed in the government offices. A football game, which had been arranged between teams from the Fifth regulars and Fifth volunteers, was postponed until Christmas, the weather being still too warm for such sport.

Several officers stationed at Guantanamo and Manzanillo, who had secured leaves of absence, spent the day with friends here. All the regiments celebrated as well as possible under the circumstances. Turkeys were few, but hopes are entertained by the Americans that their friends in the north will ship turkeys to them in time for their Christmas dinner.

THANKSGIVING IN BERLIN.

Americans Had a Banquet—Jackson Told of a German's Praise of Our Soldiers.

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—A thanksgiving dinner, attended by 200 Americans, was given at the Kaiserhof. John B. Jackson, secretary of the American embassy, presided at the banquet and proposed toasts to President McKinley and Emperor William, both of which were received with cheers.

President M. E. Gates of Amherst college made an address upon the significance of national holidays. In the course of his remarks Mr. Jackson said a great German chief, upon reading the report of the battle of Santiago, expressed unqualified admiration of the spirit of the American soldiers, who, though knowing that the enemy was armed with better weapons, never for a moment doubted that they would win the victory.

HEARD A THANKSGIVING SERMON

President and Abner McKinley Attended Church—Dinner at White House.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Thanksgiving day was observed in the usual manner. All the executive departments and business houses were closed. The president, accompanied by his brother, Abner McKinley, attended divine service at the Metropolitan Methodist church and listened to a sermon by the Rev. Dr. Bristol, the pastor, who preached from Exodus, his text being: "Behold

I send an angel before thee." Dr. Bristol, referring to the war, said that never before had Providence permitted a people to wage a more just and humane war—a war which had brought new honor, new liberties, new life, new responsibilities and new honors to those who now rejoice. The people he said should be grateful for future prospects, as well as for past blessings.

The remainder of the day the president spent at home. He ate his Thanksgiving dinner with Mrs. McKinley and his brother Abner McKinley and wife, who were visiting at the White House.

ANGLO-AMERICAN FRIENDSHIP.

Thanksgiving Banquet in London Under Entwined Flags of Two Nations.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The Thanksgiving banquet of the American society in London, which was held at the Hotel Cecil, was a glorification of Anglo-American friendship. Three hundred Americans and their English guests sat at a table under the entwined flags of the two nations. Two notable speeches were made, one by Mr. Henry White, the American charge d'affaires, and the other by Sir Edwin Arnold, who was supposed to be nearly at the point of death from paralysis, but who dragged himself into the banquet hall against the orders of his physicians, leaning on the arm of his Japanese wife and supported by a cane. The Earl of Halsbury, lord chancellor, also spoke.

J. L. Taylor, president of the society, proposed toasts to her majesty, the queen, and to President McKinley, and Mr. R. C. VanDuser, the secretary, read President McKinley's Thanksgiving proclamation. W. M. Osborne, the American consul general, in proposing the health of the charge d'affaires paid a high tribute to Mr. White's long services.

Thanksgiving Services at Nice.

NICE, Nov. 25.—Thanksgiving day was observed with enthusiasm by the American colony here. Services were held in the American church, which was packed to its fullest capacity. Rev. Mr. Adamson preached.

Thanksgiving Day in Paris.

PARIS, Nov. 25.—General Horace Porter, American ambassador to France, held a brilliant Thanksgiving day reception at the embassy, at which many persons were present.

Entertained Ohio Soldiers.

KNOXVILLE, Nov. 25.—The First West Virginia boys entertained the Sixth Ohio in a body at Thanksgiving dinner.

Anti-Anarchist Conference.

ROME, Nov. 25.—The anti-anarchist conference was opened in the Corsini palace by Vice Admiral Canevaro, minister of foreign affairs. All the European nations were represented.

NEVER perhaps was Thanksgiving so generally observed as it was yesterday, and never did the people have more cause to be thankful.

THERE were some men yesterday who could not find it in their hearts to be thankful. Perhaps they will know better than to place any hope in a Democratic nomination next year.

THE shotgun policy pursued in some southern states at the recent election should be carefully investigated by congress, and the guilty parties brought to justice. There is little need for spending our force in the cause of humanity in foreign lands when conditions such as were brought out by the events in question, prevail at home.

ALTHOUGH he will ask no more honors from the Republican party Governor Bushnell is for peace among the factions, and in an interview says he is tired of the animosity engendered by the last senatorial battle. It would be a splendid thing for the party if some of his friends would lose no time in assuming the same position. Nothing can be gained by warfare in our own ranks.

RECENT occurrences at the Ohio penitentiary, the murder of a guard and the escape and hiding out of a number of convicts, has brought much criticism upon Warden Coffin and his management of what has been known as a model institution. Mr. Coffin may know much about handling bad men, but it certainly seems as though his system is slipping a few cogs every day.

BRICE IN THE GAME.
The rumor is abroad that Calvin S. Brice is quietly preparing to enter Ohio politics next year, and is even now grooming Jimmy Rice, of Canton, for the gubernatorial race. While the statement may or may not be true, it is interesting in so far that the man who has several times expressed his desire to represent the Eighteenth district in congress is being recognized by such a money and political power as Brice. Rice is ambitious and a hard working politician. He can never represent this district as its congressman, and stands an equally poor show of becoming governor. Even though Brice has selected Rice for that position the genial Jimmy would have a hard time holding the party together and securing the vote of the gold and silver wings. He would be compelled to swallow all he said during the campaign of 1896 and a great many things he said since Major Weybrecht was nominated, for he supported free silver from start to finish, and Brice is not in sympathy with that doctrine.

CAUGHT AN OWL.
Edward McMillan is now keeping it as a Prize.
As Checkman Edward McMillan, of the outbound platform of the freight depot, was going from his work Wednesday evening, he chanced to look at the roof of the shed and saw an owl sitting on a rafter. ## AN AKRON MAN IS QUOTED

As Saying That Major Weybrecht, Late Candidate For Congress, Did Call on Colonel Hard at the Request of a Number of Officers and Asked Him to Resign.

A dispatch sent out from Akron in regard to the round robin sent to Colonel Hard, of the Eighth regiment, is as follows:

"Officers of the Eighth regiment deny that Lieutenant Colonel Charles Dick the newly-elected congressman from the Nineteenth district, was asked to resign by the officers of the regiment, which was recently mustered out at Wooster. They, say, on the contrary, that if Colonel Hard resigns, Dick will be elected colonel, for he was immensely popular with officers and men during the period the regiment was in active service."

"Capt. H. O. Feederle, of Company B, gives the following story of the request made of Hard to resign:

"At a meeting, attended by 24 commissioned officers, Maj. C. U. Weybrecht, of Alliance, late Democratic candidate for congress in the Eighteenth district, was deputed to go to the colonel and request of him to resign. On doing this, Hard asked him who would be elected colonel, and Weybrecht replied that without doubt Dick would be. Hard did not give a final answer, but intimated that he would consider the matter. Colonel Dick said today that he had not been mixed up in the matter at all; that he had not been requested to resign, and that, on the contrary, several officers had assured him that in case of a vacancy he would be elected colonel."

IT WAS A SUCCESS.

The Social Given Last Evening at the Y. M. C. A.

The social given last evening at the Young Men's Christian association rooms was very largely attended, not less than 800 persons being present.

A very entertaining musical program was rendered, and Miss Jean Standish recited several very pleasing selections. The guests were then invited to the gymnasium which has been undergoing extensive improvements, and the classes, under the direction of Physical Director Roseborough, performed some very clever drill work. A light luncheon was served. During the evening President J. J. Purinton presented each member of the Ladies' auxiliary with a very handsome chrysanthemum.

BLOCKING SIDEWALKS.

The Practice of the Teamsters Should Be Stopped.

The practice of teamsters blocking sidewalks with their wagons should be stopped. There is hardly a day that a coal wagon is not backed across a sidewalk while the teamster unloads the coal, thus blocking the sidewalk for anywhere from 15 minutes to an hour. It is not only annoying to pedestrians, but is hard on the sidewalks, and the pavements of the city would be kept in much better condition if the practice was stopped.

STENCH OF BODIES.

Believed More Than Known Perished In the Baldwin Hotel Fire—Two Bodies Recovered.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—The dead body of J. M. Leighthead was removed from the ruins of the Baldwin hotel and an unrecognizable body, supposed to be that of a woman, was recovered from the ruins of the theater. The idea that there are many more bodies in the ruins is gaining credence, and the firemen engaged in searching the accessible part of the ruins reported that a terrible odor, such as follows the incineration of flesh, is gradually becoming apparent.

This is particularly true in the debris on the Ellis street side, where, it is believed, persons have been lost whose identity is unknown and who were not included in the list of guests. Four persons are known to be missing. They are:

John J. Carter, associate judge of the jockey club.

Tate Pryor, sheet writer for Bookmaker J. J. Carroll.

Andrews, cashier for the Baldwin grocer.

W. W. Bencheley, employe of restaurant.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—The body of Tate Pryor, the missing sheet writer for J. J. Carroll, racing bookmaker, was found in the ruins of the Baldwin hotel.

All of those reported missing have been found except Racing Judge J. J. Carter, and he is undoubtedly dead. This makes the list of victims four so far as known.

A TRAIN DERAILED.

One Person Was Killed and Others Injured, in Iowa.

BURLINGTON, Ia., Nov. 25.—Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern passenger train No. 6 was derailed six miles north of Burlington, while rounding a curve. The day coach, containing about 20 passengers, rolled over twice and landed right side up in a ditch 50 feet away. The Pullman left the rails, but was not derailed.

Mrs. Catharine Davis, Columbus Junction, had her skull fractured and died later.

Amanda Harmes, 2 years old, child of August Harmes, Maxfield, Minn., had her back broken and was probably fatally hurt.

The severely injured were:

Miss Estella Bowen, Buckhorn, Ills., hip fractured.

Mrs. A. E. Gates, Welcome, Minn., back injured.

Maria Fultonhauer, Hamburg, Minn., scalp wound.

Fifteen were slightly injured.

There are too many firecrackers who imagine they are 13 inch guns in society.—Atchison Globe.

IT WAS A SUCCESS.

The Social Given Last Evening at the Y. M. C. A.

The social given last evening at the Young Men's Christian association rooms was very largely attended, not less than 800 persons being present.

A very entertaining musical program was rendered, and Miss Jean Standish recited several very pleasing selections. The guests were then invited to the gymnasium which has been undergoing extensive improvements, and the classes, under the direction of Physical Director Roseborough, performed some very clever drill work. A light luncheon was served. During the evening President J. J. Purinton presented each member of the Ladies' auxiliary with a very handsome chrysanthemum.

BLOCKING SIDEWALKS.

The Practice of the Teamsters Should Be Stopped.

The practice of teamsters blocking sidewalks with their wagons should be stopped. There is hardly a day that a coal wagon is not backed across a sidewalk while the teamster unloads the coal, thus blocking the sidewalk for anywhere from 15 minutes to an hour. It is not only annoying to pedestrians, but is hard on the sidewalks, and the pavements of the city would be kept in much better condition if the practice was stopped.

STENCH OF BODIES.

Believed More Than Known Perished In the Baldwin Hotel Fire—Two Bodies Recovered.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—The dead body of J. M. Leighthead was removed from the ruins of the Baldwin hotel and an unrecognizable body, supposed to be that of a woman, was recovered from the ruins of the theater. The idea that there are many more bodies in the ruins is gaining credence, and the firemen engaged in searching the accessible part of the ruins reported that a terrible odor, such as follows the incineration of flesh, is gradually becoming apparent.

This is particularly true in the debris on the Ellis street side, where, it is believed, persons have been lost whose identity is unknown and who were not included in the list of guests. Four persons are known to be missing. They are:

John J. Carter, associate judge of the jockey club.

Tate Pryor, sheet writer for Bookmaker J. J. Carroll.

Andrews, cashier for the Baldwin hotel.

W. W. Bencheley, employe of restaurant.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—The body of Tate Pryor, the missing sheet writer for J. J. Carroll, racing bookmaker, was found in the ruins of the Baldwin hotel.

All of those reported missing have been found except Racing Judge J. J. Carter, and he is undoubtedly dead. This makes the list of victims four so far as known.

A TRAIN DERAILED.

One Person Was Killed and Others Injured, In Iowa.

BURLINGTON, Ia., Nov. 25.—Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern passenger train No. 6 was derailed six miles north of Burlington, while rounding a curve. The day coach, containing about 20 passengers, rolled over twice and landed right side up in a ditch 50 feet away. The Pullman left the rails, but was not derailed.

Mrs. Catharine Davis, Columbus Junction, had her skull fractured and died later.

Amanda Harmes, 2 years old, child of August Harmes, Maxfield, Minn., had her back broken and was probably fatally hurt.

The severely injured were: Miss Estella Bowen, Buckhorn, Ills., hip fractured.

Mrs. A. E. Gates, Welcome, Minn., back injured.

Maria Fultonhauer, Hamburg, Minn., scalp wound.

Fifteen were slightly injured.

TWO FOOTBALL GAMES

Were Played In the City Yesterday.

NO SCORES WERE MADE

The Entre Nous and High School Elevens played a Good Game, But the Afternoon Contest Was the Worst Exhibition Ever Seen to the City.

The football games played yesterday in the city were well attended, despite the cold weather.

In the morning the Entre Nous club played a good game with the Wellsville high school eleven, and neither side scored, although the high school team showed the advantage of more practice. The game was free from any rough work, and was a very clean contest.

The afternoon game between Wellsville and Liverpool, presumably for the championship of the county, was the worst exhibition of football ever seen in the city, and to say that the spectators were disgusted would be putting it mildly.

Liverpool kicked off and the ball went behind the Wellsville goal line. The ball was brought to the middle of the field and again kicked off. It was caught by Smith, who gained a few yards before he was downed. Booth and Smith attempted end runs and made no gains, and then began to hit the center of the local team, which was very weak, owing to the absence of Stoffel and Humble. Then began a continual push, while the captain of the Wellsville eleven made everybody tired by his incessant kicking, delaying the game many minutes. The officials of the game knew almost nothing about the rules and their decisions were away of on many occasions while they made no attempt to stop the rough work. Wellsville succeeded in carrying the ball to the middle of the field, when they lost it on downs, and Hanley immediately went around the end for 25 yards and had it not been for the crowd would have scored a touchdown. This was the only end run of the game. Liverpool lost on downs, and the first half was over, with the ball in Wellsville territory.

Between the halves much money was wagered on the result of the game, and Wellsville people who were eager to bet had all their money covered. Humble got in the game and it was almost dark when the second half was called. Wellsville kicked off and Humble gained a few yards. Liverpool fumbled and Humble got the ball and again gained a few yards before he was downed. He and Booth came to blows, and the crowd surged on the field and it looked as though a free for all fight would take place, but order was finally restored, but the game did not proceed and McCarran picked up the ball and started for home, and the contest was over. After the game the spectators were still in an angry mood and numerous fights were narrowly averted.

The game probably means the end of Rugby football in the city, although the local team did not take part in the kicking and played a clean game of football.

The Rovers met defeat yesterday at East Pittsburg by a score of 3 to 1. The game was one sided in the first half and East Pittsburg scored two goals. In the second half the Rovers began to play hard, and in a few minutes had scored their only goal on a good shot by Jackson. The third goal for East Pittsburg was scored by Clark.

IT CURED THE COOK.

The Result of Her Master's Wrestling Match With the Telephone.

"About a week after the telephone was installed—any electrical device is always 'installed' when it is brought into the house—the cook was suddenly taken ill in the middle of the night, and I was requested to telephone for the doctor. It took me fully ten minutes of prolonged ringing and yelling before I could induce the central office to put me into communication with the doctor. Then I sent an agonized howl through the telephone, begging the doctor to come at once.

"In the course of the following hour six different persons carried on brief conversations with me, but no one of them was the doctor. In the case of each person it took about ten minutes of hard labor to induce him to say anything intelligible, and when the intelligible remark arrived it was to the effect that the speaker was Brown or Jones or Robinson; that he was not a doctor, and that he would inflict personal chastisement on the man who had called him out of bed if he could find the criminal in the morning.

"At last, however, my efforts were apparently crowned with success. A wretch who said he was the person of whom I was in search promised to call at my house at once. Accordingly one hour and a quarter after I had first rung the telephone I received a hurried call from the local undertaker, who insisted that I had telephoned to him to bring a coffin without a moment's delay. I got rid of him at the expense of 5 shillings and a glass of wine, and I am happy to say that the shock of the visit cured the cook without the aid of any other medicine."—W. A. Alden in Pearson's Magazine.

Cyclists as Sportsmen.

The wheelman himself can hardly be held answerable for the death of a rabbit which bolted into his machine as it stood by the roadside and broke its neck, and there was contributory negligence, as the lawyers say, on the part of the cat which tried to go through the wheel of a passing bicycle and gave the rider a bad fall at the cost of its own life. Much more noteworthy than either of these was the achievement of a cyclist who while scorching along the road (he must have been scorching) ran into a covey of partridges and killed one, his wheel passing over its neck. The only way in which this curious accident can be explained is to suppose that the birds were "dusting" at a bend in the road, and that the cyclist's approach, concealed by the hedges, remained undetected till the enemy was literally among them.—Chambers' Journal.

"Certainly, mum."

"And not go racing with other cabs."

"No, mum."

"And not go round the corners quickly."

"No, mum."

After the job the old lady, handing him the exact fare, a shilling, said: "You have driven me very carefully and well, and here is a shilling for you. Have you driven a cab all your life?"

"No, mum. I used to drive a hearse, and best if I don't go back to it. It's a better game than this. I hope I'll drive yer again, mum."—London Fun.

Daniel O'Connell's sarcastic and graphic description of a lady of stiff, cold and formal manners is very happy. "She has all the characteristics of a poker—except its occasional warmth."

IT CURED THE COOK.

The Result of Her Master's Wrestling Match With the Telephone.

"About a week after the telephone was installed—any electrical device is always 'installed' when it is brought into the house—the cook was suddenly taken ill in the middle of the night, and I was requested to telephone for the doctor. It took me fully ten minutes of prolonged ringing and yelling before I could induce the central office to put me into communication with the doctor. Then I sent an agonized howl through the telephone, begging the doctor to come at once.

"In the course of the following hour six different persons carried on brief conversations with me, but no one of them was the doctor. In the case of each person it took about ten minutes of hard labor to induce him to say anything intelligible, and when the intelligible remark arrived it was to the effect that the speaker was Brown or Jones or Robinson; that he was not a doctor, and that he would inflict personal chastisement on the man who had called him out of bed if he could find the criminal in the morning.

"At last, however, my efforts were apparently crowned with success. A wretch who said he was the person of whom I was in search promised to call at my house at once. Accordingly one hour and a quarter after I had first rung the telephone I received a hurried call from the local undertaker, who insisted that I had telephoned to him to bring a coffin without a moment's delay. I got rid of him at the expense of 5 shillings and a glass of wine, and I am happy to say that the shock of the visit cured the cook without the aid of any other medicine."—W. A. Alden in Pearson's Magazine.

Cyclists as Sportsmen.

The wheelman himself can hardly be held answerable for the death of a rabbit which bolted into his machine as it stood by the roadside and broke its neck, and there was contributory negligence, as the lawyers say, on the part of the cat which tried to go through the wheel of a passing bicycle and gave the rider a bad fall at the cost of its own life. Much more noteworthy than either of these was the achievement of a cyclist who while scorching along the road (he must have been scorching) ran into a covey of partridges and killed one, his wheel passing over its neck. The only way in which this curious accident can be explained is to suppose that the birds were "dusting" at a bend in the road, and that the cyclist's approach, concealed by the hedges, remained undetected till the enemy was literally among them.—Chambers' Journal.

After the job the old lady, handing him the exact fare, a shilling, said: "You have driven me very carefully and well, and here is a shilling for you. Have you driven a cab all your life?"

"No, mum. I used to drive a hearse, and best if I don't go back to it. It's a better game than this. I hope I'll drive yer again, mum."—London Fun.

EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

14TH YEAR. NO. 143.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O. FRIDAY, NOV. 25, 1898.

TWO CENTS

THE NEEDS OF ALASKA.

Sec'y Bliss Mentioned Them In His Report.

TERRITORIES WANT STATEHOOD.

Their Reports Urge Immediate Recognition—Two Hundred and Sixty-five Thousand Pension Claims of All Classes Pending—Increase in School Children.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The annual report of the Secretary of the Interior Bliss reviewed in detail the progress of pension, Indian, land, patent, educational and territorial affairs. Reviewing the gradual diminution of the public land area, Secretary Bliss says:

Of three hundred and odd million acres of desert land requiring irrigation to render them valuable farming lands, the available water supply is sufficient for only 71,500,000 acres, leaving 260,676,000 acres suitable only for grazing purposes. There are 30 forest reservations embracing an estimated area of 40,719,474 acres.

The Indians are declared to have made substantial progress and the Chipewewa outbreak was the only serious disturbance of the year. Referring to this trouble the report points to Commissioner of Indian Affairs Jones' successful efforts in bringing about the surrender of the Indians and says the origin of the trouble is now under joint investigation by the departments of the interior and of justice.

Reviewing pension matters, Secretary Bliss reports 635,000 claims of all classes pending, and says a separate division has been organized for the adjudication of claims growing out of the war with Spain. These soldiers will receive their pensions under the general law for permanent disabilities contracted in the service.

He also concurs in the recommendation for the creation of a commission to revise the pension laws and regulations in the interest of a future reliable, intelligent and uniform practice.

The advancement among educational lines is outlined by an increase of over 250,000 of school pupils in the United States for the fiscal year 1896-7 over the previous one, but yet the total average amount of schooling per individual for the whole United States, measured by the present standard, does not quite equal five years of 200 days each for each inhabitant. The total number of school pupils in the country, in elementary public and private schools, colleges, universities, high schools and academies, is put at 16,255,093.

The reindeer and their Lapland drivers in Alaska have largely passed into the service of the postoffice department and are now being distributed for carrying the Yukon mail up and down the valley of the Yukon through 1,000 miles of scattered mining settlements in the wilderness.

Secretary Bliss, summing up the report of Governor Brady of Alaska, calls attention to the difficulty of preventing the smuggling of liquor into Alaska, it being impossible to enforce present regulations without a fleet of revenue cutters and steam launches to patrol the tortuous channels of Southeast Alaskan waters.

The governor reports a consensus of opinion in favor of a stringent high license law, which would tend to stamp out smuggling and liquor selling to the natives. The governor believes that Alaska should and can pay revenue into the United States treasury.

Under a high license law he estimates that the liquor traffic would yield an annual revenue of not less than $200,000; a tax of a few cents per case of salmon would produce from $55,000 to $60,000; 10 cents per ton on wharfage collected during the past year would have yielded $100,000. He recommends, however, that taxation be deferred until laws shall have been provided.

Many sections of Alaska, it is shown, are suitable for agricultural purposes. Representation in congress for the citizens of Alaska is strongly urged.

Many Americans who have located mining claims in the northwest territory have abandoned them, and have settled on the Alaskan side of the international boundary line, where a new town, Eagle City has sprung up. There has been great development in quartz mining in Southeast Alaska and along the coast as far as Unalaska. Coal has been discovered near the Upper Yukon, the Tanana and on Prince William sound.

Public buildings at Sitka are urgently needed for the accommodation of the officials. It is recommended that congress appropriate $110,000 for the erection of a penitentiary and other buildings.

An appropriation of $60,000 for the education of children in Alaska is earnestly recommended.

Attention is called to the fact that the rapid increase of the number of vessels plying Alaskan waters necessitates the erection of many light houses. Other recommendations include a monthly mail service between Sitka and Unalaska, cable connection between the United States and Alaska, enlargement of Administrative authority and extension of the land laws to at least the settled portions. The other territorial reports all claim material progress and urge immediate recognition as states.

Assistant Secretary of the Interior

Webster Davis, in his annual report, says the 12,681 appeals from the pension bureau and 626 motions for reconsideration filed during the year make up a number unprecedented in any one year or any two years in the history of the board of pension appeals.

The proportionate increase, still continues, and on Oct. 1 last there were 11,820 such appeals and motions pending, and Secretary Bliss concurs in Assistant Secretary Davis' recommendations for providing for three additional members of this board; for additional legislation amending the act of Aug. 7, 1882, relating to marriages; legislation regulating the payment of pensions to soldiers who deprive their families of the use thereof because of immoral habits and incompetency; and a legislative amendment in behalf of widows whose husbands died while in the service, death not being the result of any violation of any law, regulation or rule of the military or naval service, death under such conditions to be held to be equivalent to an honorable discharge, as now required.

ROBBERS AT BAY.

Officers Think They Have the Utica Bandits Located in a Cabin Near Centerburg.

NEWARK, Nov. 25.—Officers in pursuit of the robbers who looted the A. J. Wilson bank in Utica of $15,000 think they have the men at bay in a cabin between Rich Hill and Centerburg, in Delaware county. Their horse was thoroughly blown and had been abandoned. It was hired from A. S. Bennett in Mt. Vernon by one of the supposed robbers, who was a large man, weighing about 190 pounds, with dark hair, lighter heavy mustache, brown suit and heavy overcoat.

He answers the description of one of the two men pursued by Edward Smoot after the robbery.

Banker Wilson says of the money $800 was in silver, $1,000 in gold, $7,500 in negotiable government bonds, and the rest in paper currency. Sheriff Horton left with a posse of men in hope of intercepting the men, who could not travel fast with the weight they carried.

MAY PROCEED AGAINST HIM.

Blandin's Speech Likely to Result in His Being Cited for Contempt.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 25.—The sensational finish in the disbarment proceedings against State Senator Burke has stirred the legal profession of this city. Ex-Judge Blandin, who so severely arraigned the members of the county bench, is receiving congratulatory telegrams from all over the state for his fearless stand in the matter.

The common pleas judges are greatly wrought up. They will undoubtedly take some action in reference to the matter, but whether to resent it by bringing Judge Blandin up for contempt or to make a statement through the press has not yet been decided. Many attorneys, however, believe that Judge Blandin will be cited to appear for contempt of court. It is said that Judge Ong may take the initiative in this direction.

SMALLPOX IN THIS STATE.

Dr. Probst of the Health Board Fears an Extensive Spread.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 25.—Dr. Probst of the state board of health said conditions were ripe for a dangerous spread of smallpox in this state. He has personally investigated 150 cases. In Marysville, where there have been 200 cases, the doctors did not recognize the disease, though it existed all summer.

There are now only three cases in Marysville. The disease has reached this county, having been brought from Marysville. Dr. Probst has been going from one town to another investigating new cases.

A Death in Camp.

CAMP MARION, SUMMERVILLE, S. O., Nov. 25.—Private Harnes Edlison of Company B, with the Ohio battalion from Xenia, O., died in the hospital of pernicious malarial fever. His body was shipped home for interment. His was the second death in the battalion since it has been in service.

THREE GIRLS IN JAIL.

They Terribly Beat an Allegheny Girl, Who May Die.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 25.—Three well-known young Allegheny women may have to answer for the murder of Nora Bittner, the daughter of a prominent North Side business man, whom, it is alleged, they murderously assaulted, and whose death is anticipated by her physicians.

Mamie Wright, Sophia Michael and Victoria Bennett, all of whom reside on East Ohio street, Allegheny, accused of the terrible assault are confined in the county jail to await developments in their victim's condition.

Found Dead in a Chair.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—E. H. Pierce of Christiansburg, Va., was found dead in his room in the Morton House. He was sitting in a chair, fully dressed. There was no evidence of suicide.

Two Women Burned to Death.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 25.—Mrs. Nancy Staley and Minnie France, her niece, were burned to death here by a fire in the flats on the river front. May Staley was also badly burned.

SPAIN WILL SIGN.

Cabinet Reported Practically Agreed, Though Not Finally.

MAY PROVOKE INTERNAL CRISIS.

Carlists Said to Have Smuggled 12,000 Mauser Rifles Across the Frontier—Don Jaime Reported on a Mysterious Journey—Abarzuza Interviewed.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—A Madrid dispatch in The Daily Mail said that the cabinet will take a final decision today, but it is agreed in principle to authorize Senor Montero Rios, president of the Spanish commission, to sign a peace treaty, although the commissioners may be instructed to insist upon its ratification by the cortes.

It is believed that this decision will provoke an internal crisis.

It is reported that the Carlists have smuggled 12,000 Mauser rifles across the frontier.

The Carlisle organ announces that Don Jaime, after a conference with his father, left Venice upon a mysterious journey, in company with a prominent Carlist leader.

SIGNIFICANT INTERVIEW.

Abarzuza Said Spanish Commission Might Be in Paris For Another Fortnight.

PARIS, Nov. 25.—The Spanish commissioners will likely submit their final answer to the American propositions tomorrow.

The correspondent of The Associated Press asked Senor Abarzuza if the commissions would be able to leave Paris next week with the treaty, and he replied, with a sidelong glance, as though to observe whether his questioner noted the significance of the reply:

"I suppose we shall be here for another fortnight."

"Why?" the Spanish commissioner was asked, "is the opinion expressed so emphatically by a portion of the Paris press that you will decline the $20,000,000, but will sign the treaty with a protest that you do so only under the pressure of superior power?"

"Well it does seem that $20,000,000 is not very satisfactory."

This was the semi-evasive manner in which the Spanish diplomat answered the question.

His questioner continued: "Then, it has been affirmed that Spain will refuse to sign the treaty, decline the money offered and make a protest to the powers and that her commissioners will go home. Is that the most likely result?"

"Ah! but we should not anticipate; we should know day by day what happens day by day."

"And so you anticipate a fortnight more of daily developments here?"

"Ah yes. A fortnight. Perhaps some affairs may be attended to in that time."

To Form a Cuban Regiment.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Nov. 25.—Captain Ord, the judge advocate, has a plan which has the endorsement of the Cuban Generals Rodriguez, Lacret and Oelazo of forming a regiment composed entirely of Cubans, with the exception of the colonel, lieutenant colonel and one major. The plan contemplates the subsequent formation of several such regiments.

MONETARY CHANGES.

Director Roberts Refers to Financial Action by Different Nations to Promote an International Standard.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—In his annual report Mr. George E. Roberts, the director of the mint, said in part:

"The most important events of the fiscal year in the world of government finance have been the consummation of the long planned resumption of specie payments by Russia in gold, the reorganization of the monetary system of Japan with gold as the standard, and the refusal of the government of India to co-operate with the governments of the United States and France in an effort to establish bimetalism by international agreement."

"The gold coinage of the world in 1897 was the largest recorded, amounting in value to $437,719,342, against $195,899,517 in 1896. Of the former sum $146,622,194 was recoinage, and approximately $291,097,148 a net addition to the stock of gold coins. The principal coinage was by the United States, Great Britain, Russia, Germany, Austria-Hungary, France and Japan. The extraordinary coinage of the year is accounted for by the preparations of Russia, Austria-Hungary and Japan for their monetary reforms."

"Throughout the world, among all peoples who are sufficiently civilized and ambitious to have international intercourse, there is manifest a desire to bring their own currencies into definite and stable relations with the money of the peoples with whom they trade."

"If the monetary systems of these countries have no common unit—if each nation, in ignorance or misled independence, prefers an independent system of his own—they will inevitably vary in value to each other, and the profits of the international transaction we are considering are subject to these variations. Such variations are therefore a barrier to trade between the countries." Mr. Roberts said the countries mentioned in the opening paragraph did as they did for these reasons.

At another point, he said: "Nor is there any merit in the plea, sometimes made, that inasmuch as most of a country's business transactions are domestic and only a small percentage of them international, therefore, the relations of its money to the money of other countries is of equally small importance. The truth is that prices in all domestic sales are related to prices in international transactions and cannot be separated from them. The values of all goods that enter into the common consumption of mankind are international, and cannot be affected by monetary legislation. Legislation can alter the value of a local currency, but the owner of goods of world-wide demand simply raises or lowers his price to correspond with the changed value of money."

CIVIL SERVICE EXEMPTIONS.

More Positions Likely to Be Included in President's Expected Order.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The indications are that the new civil service order will be out in a few days. The president has discussed the general scope of the forthcoming exemptions with the members of the cabinet and others and there have been several consultations of late among departmental officials. The exemptions, it is now understood, in addition to those already mentioned, will include members of the board of pension appeals, to which appeals from the action of pension bureau first go; law clerks in the general land office, and among others, per diem employees in the offices of surveyors general.

Some officials in the Indian service are said to be slated for exemption, and a few offices in the postal service, including cashiers and others in postoffices for whose duties the postmasters are held personally responsible, will be included. Private secretaries to chiefs of the bureau also will be taken out of the civil service, but chief clerks and chiefs of divisions are not to be effected.

WHEELING, Nov. 25.—In an interview a Wheeling mill magnate who has been prominent in connection with the negotiations looking to the consolidation of all the tinplate mills in the country stated that he was in receipt of information from the combine's headquarters at Chicago to the effect that every mill in the country with but two exceptions is pledged to join in the consolidation.

Neither of these mills, he said, is located in the Ohio valley. He predicted that the consolidation would be accomplished in a short time. There are four concerns in the Wheeling mill district interested in the deal.

DUE TO OUR TARIFF.

A Britisher Pointed Out Falling Off Britain's Export Trade.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Right Hon. Charles T. Ritchie, president of the board of trade, discussing the subject of British trade before the Croydon chamber of commerce, said he regretted to have to confess that the exports for the year ended with October had decreased £2,600,000, chiefly through the United States tariff.

He said Great Britain was gradually making up the leeway. Since 1891, the exports of the United States have increased 18 per cent, and Great Britain's exports have decreased 5 per cent.

MURDEROUS NEGROES.

Alabama Soldiers Fired Upon White Men, at Anniston.

A NUMBER RECEIVED WOUNDS.

One Negro Killed and Another Fatally Hurt—White Soldiers Clamored For Arms—Two Guards Missing—Several Negroes Nearly Lynched.

ANNISTON, Ala., Nov. 25.—Members of the Third Alabama, a negro regiment, caused great excitement here. Private Gildhart of Company B, Second Arkansas, while returning to camp from town, was shot in the head by a negro soldier, who also stabbed him in the back. Gildhart was taken to a hospital. A little later, a member of the Fourth Kentucky is reported to have been shot on Walnut street by negro soldiers, who lay in a gully, shooting at the white men who passed. Firing was heard in Liberia, the negro quarter of the city. A squad of the provost guard went to investigate.

As it turned the corner of Fifteenth and Pine streets a large crowd of negro soldiers opened fire upon the guard with Springfield rifles. The guard returned the fire, but had few cartridges and soon had to retreat. When reinforcements and ammunition were secured the negroes had disappeared.

Sergeant Dodson, Third Tennessee, was shot in the arm and Private Graham, Third Tennessee, in the stomach. Two members of the provost guard are missing.

White soldiers who were in the city gathered around the provost guard headquarters and begged for guns and ammunition, but were refused. Citizens armed themselves and repaired to the scene of the battle. Mayor Hight had the saloons closed. Several negro soldiers, one with a Springfield that had just been fired, were arrested in various parts of the city and locked up, though it was with difficulty that the infuriated white soldiers and citizens were prevented from wreaking summary vengeance upon them.

Armories of the two local military companies were broken into and every gun and cartridge appropriated by unknown parties. General Colby, commanding the Second brigade, brought in two companies each of the Third Tennessee and Second Arkansas. They scoured the city and carried all soldiers not on duty back to camp. A member of the Fourth Wisconsin is said to have been shot, but the report can not be verified. One negro soldier while under arrest was shot in the arm by a citizen.

A negro soldier was dangerously beaten up by some white soldiers on Tenth street, and this incident is supposed to have caused the riotous actions on the part of negroes who are said to have slipped out of the camp through the guard lines.

Later one negro soldier was brought in dead and another fatally wounded.

SOLDIERS RETURNED.

First Engineers Arrived From Porto Rico—Twelve Died on the Island.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The United States transport Minnewaska, from Porto Rico, carrying the First regiment of engineers, arrived here. The Minnewaska was docked in Brooklyn and the men provided with overcoats. Today the regiment will be taken to an East river pier, where it will disembark and march to the Eighth regiment armory. The National Society of New England Women will serve a collation, after which 60-days' furlough and transportation home will be given each man. Governor Hastings of Pennsylvania was represented by one of his staff.

When the regiment went away it was composed of 1,097 men and 48 officers. One officer, Lieutenant R. V. Beach of New Haven, and 11 men died while in service in Porto Rico, most of them from typhoid fever. Others were furloughed home and 61 were left in hospitals in Porto Rico. Of the men who were sick on the return trip 23 were so seriously ill on the arrival of the ship that they were removed to Brooklyn hospitals.

A SERVICE OF THANKS

Held Yesterday In the First Presbyterian Church.

DOCTOR CLARK CRAWFORD

Delivered an Eloquent and Instructive Sermon Upon "Liberty's Flag"—The Principles and Institutions For Which the Banner of This Republic Stands Were Discussed.

The union Thanksgiving services held yesterday morning at the First Presbyterian church were largely attended and were very interesting.

The services were opened by Rev. C. F. Swift, who read a chapter from Acts and Rev. J. R. Greene read a psalm. Dr. J. C. Taggart read the president's proclamation and offered a fervent and eloquent prayer. The congregation sang "America" and "I Need Thee Every Hour."

Dr. Clark Crawford, pastor of the First M. E. church then delivered an interesting sermon from the subject: "Liberty's Flag," and quoted the following passages of scripture:

"Thou hast given a banner to them that fear thee that it may be displayed because of the truth." Psalm lx, 4.

"Let the people praise thee, oh God, let all the people praise thee." Psalm lxvii, 3.

After a brief account of the way that flag came into use the speaker proceeded to discuss the principles, the institutions and the history for which the banner of this republic stands. "That banner is the token of liberty—not lawlessness, but orderly, constitutional liberty. It was consecrated for its mission by men who dedicated every thing to the right of all men to freedom. It represents all the truths and purposes that brought together the colonial congress; all that patriots meant when, looking into the face of gloom and death, they signed the Declaration of Independence; all they meant by the bloody Revolution and expressed in the immortal constitution. It was an ordinance of freedom, of the people, by the people and for the people. That it still means and must mean till the end of time.

"Think of the magnificent and varied domain over which it waves. It is so vast as to be forever creating in the minds of Americans images of vastness. We have a territory so extensive and so fertile that we could clothe and feed the population of the whole earth. Consider the wonderful material prosperity existing under the folds of that banner. It reduces to insignificance the romances and realities of all the past. Ride across the continent and witness, notwithstanding the grumbling, the evidences of prosperity. Compare the olden days with ours—the olden days of slow travel and log huts. Prosperity does not lie in that direction. These are the best days that have ever been. There never was a time, thanks to economy enforced by financial stringency and to restored confidence, when the people were so nearly out of debt. Notice, too, the marvelous achievements of inventive and applied genius. Let us take all these blessings as the gift of God, and exclaim, 'Let the people praise thee, O God, let all the people praise thee.'

"Then under our flag exists something which, in such excellence, can be found nowhere else on the globe, viz., our system of universal education. We have placed the free common school in the van of our institutions, saying, Now let education be free as the air of heaven, for it is necessary to the civil, social and religious rights of us all that the American citizen should know something. In no event can we suffer the schoolhouse to rot down, or vandal hands to destroy it.

"Next door above the schoolhouse under the flag is the American home. The experience of the race, together with the teaching of the Bible, shows that the marriage of one man to one woman is the soil out of which patriotism grows. Anything that threatens the integrity of the home is dangerous. Therefore, if I had the power, I would shut the mouth and break the pen of every free love charlatan who tampers with the marital relation. Thank God for the multitude of pure, happy homes over which the flag floats. May the gospel of righteousness make every American fireside a holy sanctuary.

"It need scarcely be said that the history of the flag under whose ample folds we have these priceless blessings has always been on the side of rational liberty. Under it Washington rode with chivalric love of freedom for every human being. Under it Perry, Farragut and Dewey fought and fought for liberty. Under it Lincoln wrote the Emancipation Proclamation. Under it Grant, Sherman, Sheridan and the boys in blue waged war for the oppressed until it won again its place in the air and became glorious forever. England could not conquer it, and Spain should have profited by her example. It never once was lowered to despotism, and no wonder, for it represents a genius for man-building as well as for man-ruling. Under that genius feeble colonies have grown into great states, and these states have become the mightiest nation on earth, whose spirit of liberty is felt everywhere."

Here Mr. Crawford related an incident illustrating the power of the American flag over Russian political prisoners at St. Petersburg.

"A more striking and recent illustration," he said, "is found nearer home. Just off our coast yonder live a people who, until recently, were the subjects of a nation whose history has been more cruel than even that of Russia. Their existence has been a tragedy. Until a few years ago they had the old idea that no political power in any way belonged to the people. But distance from the decadent monarchy and nearness to this land of liberty finally disenchanted their minds of that belief. We imbued them with republican thought and principles until they learned that stable society is not founded on nobles and thrones, but on the rights of man. Then for these rights they contended, first through peaceful means and afterward through bloody wars, in which they revealed heroism never surpassed. In the spirit of our fathers, they cried, 'Give us liberty or give us extermination.' Their appeal reached and swayed the heart of the American people as the storm sways the ocean. Our noble President, with the forbearance and magnanimity of a Lincoln, exhausted patience and diplomacy in efforts to induce Spain to be guided by reason and conscience without our intervention. You remember how at last, not in the interest of any base passion, but in defense of the rights of universal man, Old Glory went to Cuba, first by way of Manila, and then by way of San Juan and Santiago, saying, 'Liberty, come forth! All hail to free Cuba!' You remember that God made the triumph of our arms entirely glorious. Brave men did not return, but they perished in liberty's cause under liberty's flag. And to their eternal honor, the Pearl of the Antilles will henceforth shine more lustrously; industry shall thrive; schools shall flourish; churches with a pure religion shall spring up, and on the ruins of Spanish rule shall stand fraternity, equity and freedom.

"With the incomparable victory of our banner in this conflict an immense history, both for this republic and the world, began. Steam and electricity have brought all nations into one neighborhood, and you might as well try to prevent the tides of ocean as try to prevent the larger influence and movement of our flag in the neighborhood affairs. Already the popular impulse, born of our triumph over tyranny, has gone everywhere. One word that impulse speaks—liberty. All men have heard it. Let us thank God for permitting us to give wider swing to the immortal blessing of human freedom. And if in addition to Hawaii, Porto Rico and Guam, it is his manifest will that we should take the Philippines in the interest of civilization, let our banner follow where he leads, for where he leads is dawn. I have a vision. Washington lives again. He sees the achievements of a century under freedom's flag and exclaims:

'Tis the star-spangled banner! O long may it wave, O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

"Finally, while our flag represents no creed, under its protection religion flourishes as under no other flag on earth. There are 21,000,000 Christians under its folds today, and the cause for which they stand was never so potential as now. After all our unexampled national greatness and prosperity are due more to the power of religion than to anything else. The men who founded the republic were men who believed in God, and in the measure of our fidelity to the God they worshipped we have flourished. There are yet many evils over which we weep and for whose death we constantly pray, but there are, too, many things over which we rejoice and give thanks."

GEN. SHAFTER'S LESSON.

It Was on This Occasion That He Learned to Decide For Himself.

Here is a story that the Cleveland Leader proffers about General Shafter. It centers about his salient trait of being pugnacious, just as all current and well invented anecdotes of "Fighting Bob" Evans revolve around some incandescent bit of profanity. But the story runs thus, as the general is made to tell it:

"Once, when I was a boy at school—I wasn't more than 10 or 11 years old at the time—our teacher called up the class in mental arithmetic and began putting questions, beginning with the pupil at the head of the row and going down toward the foot, until some one could give the correct answer. I stood somewhere near the middle, and next below me was a boy who was three years older and considerably ahead of me in the various studies that we had.

"How much are 13 and 9 and 8?" the teacher asked.

"While one after another of the boys and girls ahead of me guessed and failed to get it right I figured out what I thought the answer ought to be. The question had almost got to me when I heard the big boy just below me whispering, apparently to himself, but loud enough for me to hear, '29, 29, 29.'

"Finally the pupil above me failed to answer correctly, and then it was my turn.

"Well, Willie," said the teacher, 'let's see if you know the answer. Come, now, be prompt.'

"I cocked my head up proudly on one side, cast a triumphant look at those who had 'fallen down' on the problem and said, so that everybody in the schoolroom could hear me:

"Twenty-nine!"

"Next. How many are 13 and 9 and 8?"

"Aw!" said the big boy below me, with a look of supreme contempt at the rest of us, "30!"

"That was what I had figured it to be myself, and when the teacher said 'correct' I wanted to fight.

"I didn't assault him, but I made up my mind right there and then to depend on my own judgment in the future, and ever since then when I have had anything to do and had figured out what I considered the best way to do it I have gone ahead, remembering, when people criticised or tried to throw me off the track, how that big boy made a fool of me in the mental arithmetic class."

SPLENDID UNION SERVICES

Were Conducted at the Christian Church,
the Addresses Being Heard by an Unusually Large Audience--Sudden Death.
All the News of Wellsville.

Wellsville gave itself over to a general observance of Thanksgiving, and little business was transacted yesterday.

Union services at the Christian church were largely attended, and were among the best in the history of the city. Rev. H. Newton Miller was in charge, and Rev. C. L. V. McKee made the opening prayer, Reverend Gamertsfelder reading the lesson. The first address was made by Doctor Holtz and was eloquent, his subject being "Our Nation." He was followed by Reverend Thrapp who spoke of the "Home." He too had carefully prepared his address. Reverend Littell spoke of the "Church." He touched upon its power in the nation and the home.

A pleasing feature of the service was the excellent music rendered by the choir. It was in charge of Mrs. and Miss Duck. A liberal collection was taken, and later given to the poor.

WARM THANKSGIVING.

Football Game Postponed Until Christmas, at Santiago—Americans Observed the Day.

SANTIAGO, Nov. 25.—Santiago celebrated its first thanksgiving since the American occupation. All the ships in the harbor were decorated with bunting and the officers entertained friends at dinner. The day was practically unobserved by the Cubans, except those employed in the government offices. A football game, which had been arranged between teams from the Fifth regulars and Fifth volunteers, was postponed until Christmas, the weather being still too warm for such sport.

Several officers stationed at Guantanamo and Manzanillo, who had secured leaves of absence, spent the day with friends here. All the regiments celebrated as well as possible under the circumstances. Turkeys were few, but hopes are entertained by the Americans that their friends in the north will ship turkeys to them in time for their Christmas dinner.

THANKSGIVING IN BERLIN.

Americans Had a Banquet—Jackson Told of a German's Praise of Our Soldiers.

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—A thanksgiving dinner, attended by 200 Americans, was given at the Kaiserhof. John B. Jackson, secretary of the American embassy, presided at the banquet and proposed toasts to President McKinley and Emperor William, both of which were received with cheers.

President M. E. Gates of Amherst college made an address upon the significance of national holidays. In the course of his remarks Mr. Jackson said a great German chief, upon reading the report of the battle of Santiago, expressed unqualified admiration of the spirit of the American soldiers, who, though knowing that the enemy was armed with better weapons, never for a moment doubted that they would win the victory.

Major General Wheaton, U. S. A., retired, said he hoped congress now realized the fact that the United States needed an army commensurate with the requirements of a great nation.

HEARD A THANKSGIVING SERMON.

President and Abner McKinley Attended Church—Dinner at White House.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Thanksgiving day was observed in the usual manner. All the executive departments and business houses were closed. The president, accompanied by his brother, Abner McKinley, attended divine service at the Metropolitan Methodist church and listened to a sermon by the Rev. Dr. Bristol, the pastor, who preached from Exodus, his text being: "Behold

I send an angel before thee." Dr. Bristol, referring to the war, said that never before had Providence permitted a people to wage a more just and humane war—a war which had brought new honor, new liberties, new life, new responsibilities and new honors to those who now rejoice. The people he said should be grateful for future prospects, as well as for past blessings.

The remainder of the day the president spent at home. He ate his Thanksgiving dinner with Mrs. McKinley and his brother Abner McKinley and wife, who were visiting at the White House.

ANGLO-AMERICAN FRIENDSHIP.

Thanksgiving Banquet in London Under Entwined Flags of Two Nations.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The Thanksgiving banquet of the American society in London, which was held at the Hotel Cecil, was a glorification of Anglo-American friendship. Three hundred Americans and their English guests sat at a table under the entwined flags of the two nations. Two notable speeches were made, one by Mr. Henry White, the American charge d'affaires, and the other by Sir Edwin Arnold, who was supposed to be nearly at the point of death from paralysis, but who dragged himself into the banquet hall against the orders of his physicians, leaning on the arm of his Japanese wife and supported by a cane. The Earl of Halsbury, lord chancellor, also spoke.

J. L. Taylor, president of the society, proposed toasts to her majesty, the queen, and to President McKinley, and Mr. F. C. VanDuser, the secretary, read President McKinley's Thanksgiving proclamation. W. M. Osborne, the American consul general, in proposing the health of the charge d'affaires paid a high tribute to Mr. White's long services.

Thanksgiving Services at Nice.

NICE, Nov. 25.—Thanksgiving day was observed with enthusiasm by the American colony here. Services were held in the American church, which was packed to its fullest capacity. Rev. Mr. Adamson preached.

Thanksgiving Day in Paris.

PARIS, Nov. 25.—General Horace Porter, American ambassador to France, held a brilliant Thanksgiving day reception at the embassy, at which many persons were present.

Entertained Ohio Soldiers.

KNOXVILLE, Nov. 25.—The First West Virginia boys entertained the Sixth Ohio in a body at Thanksgiving dinner.

Anti-Anarchist Conference.

ROME, Nov. 25.—The anti-anarchist conference was opened in the Corsini palace by Vice Admiral Canavaro, minister of foreign affairs. All the European nations were represented.

NEVER perhaps was Thanksgiving so generally observed as it was yesterday, and never did the people have more cause to be thankful.

THERE were some men yesterday who could not find it in their hearts to be thankful. Perhaps they will know better than to place any hope in a Democratic nomination next year.

THE shotgun policy pursued in some southern states at the recent election should be carefully investigated by congress, and the guilty parties brought to justice. There is little need for spending our force in the cause of humanity in foreign lands when conditions such as were brought out by the events in question, prevail at home.

ALTHOUGH he will ask no more honors from the Republican party Governor Bushnell is for peace among the factions, and in an interview says he is tired of the animosity engendered by the last senatorial battle. It would be a splendid thing for the party if some of his friends would lose no time in assuming the same position. Nothing can be gained by warfare in our own ranks.

RECENT occurrences at the Ohio penitentiary, the murder of a guard and the escape and hiding out of a number of convicts, has brought much criticism upon Warden Coffin and his management of what has been known as a model institution. Mr. Coffin may know much about handling bad men, but it certainly seems as though his system is slipping a few cogs every day.

BRICE IN THE GAME.

The rumor is abroad that Calvin S.
Brice is quietly preparing to enter Ohio politics next year, and is even now grooming Jimmy Rice, of Canton, for the gubernatorial race. While the statement may or may not be true, it is interesting in so far that the man who has several times expressed his desire to represent the Eighteenth district in congress is being recognized by such a money and political power as Brice.
Rice is ambitious and a hard working politician. He can never represent this district as its congressman, and stands an equally poor show of becoming governor. Even though Brice has selected Rice for that position the genial Jimmy would have a hard time holding the party together and securing the vote of the gold and silver wings. He would be compelled to swallow all he said during the campaign of 1896 and a great many things he said since Major Weybrecht was nominated, for he supported free silver from start to finish, and Brice is not in sympathy with that doctrine.

As Checkman Edward McMillan, of nesday evening, he chanced to look at the roof of the shed and saw an owl sitting on a rafter. He captured it and took it home, where he placed it in a cage. The owl is a fine specimen, and is one of the largest ever seen in this section.

LISBON, Nov. 25.—[Special]—Fire broke out this morning in the Anderson property, in East Washington street, but it was extinguished before much damage was done.

The football game yesterday between Lisbon and Wellsville resulted in favor of the local team by a score of 6 to 0.

A marriage license was issued to Charles Becker and Annie Neisheisel.

Mayor Martin has appointed W. H. Hepburn city treasurer in place of M. J. Child, and his appointment has been approved by council. He gave bond in the sum of $8,000.

The will of James Gilson, late of Yellow Creek, has been offered for probate.

William H. Vodrey was appointed administrator of the estate of Sarah A. Godwin, late of Liverpool township, with a bond of $1,400. Thomas H. Arbuckle, Fred G. Croxall and W. K. Gaston were appointed appraisers.

There will be two sales of personal property here tomorrow. Agnes Way, George Way and Harriett Way expect to move to Sewickley, Pa. W. H. Reed will also sell some of his personal property as he is obliged to leave for the east to take charge of the business of his father-in-law, F. W. Lockwood, who was lost on the ill-fated steamer Mohegan. Mr. Reed was a partner in the Ohio Gum company of this place, but has sold his interest. A report is being circulated that the gum company will leave Lisbon as they have excellent offers to locate elsewhere, one from Youngstown and one from Erie. The matter will probably be settled today.

The petit jurors have been notified by order of the court not to appear until Wednesday, Nov. 30, at 10 a. m.

Nancy M. Govey has brought action against Wesley S. Daniels, Julius Goetz and William R. Lawson asking for a judgment of $432 with interest, the amount being claimed upon a bond given by Daniels to the plaintiff to compromise a delicate proceeding began before Squire McKenzie in Wellsville in 1892. Daniels agreed to pay $6 per month for the maintenance of the child from the date of its birth until it was six years of age and giving Goetz and Lawson as sureties.

Sheriff Gill yesterday took Fred Bandv, of Butler township, to the Massillon state hospital.

MRS. MARGARET EYNON

Died This Morning at the Home of Her Daughter.

Mrs. Margaret Eynon, aged 65 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Wharton, 20 Thompson avenue, at 4 o'clock this morning. Pneumonia was the cause of death. Services, conducted by Reverend Weary, will be held this evening at the home, and the remains will be taken to Cambridge on the 8:17 train tomorrow morning for burial.

Mrs. Eynon was a native of Scotland, and came to this country about six years ago, and located in Cambridge. Her husband died two years ago. She is survived by her two daughters, Mrs. Robert Wharton and Mrs. Hulse, of West End, and one son, now living in Sharon.

THEY DID NOT WORK.

Much Freight Was Shipped From the Depot Today.

Business at the freight depot today was heavy, and it was with difficulty that a wagon could pass through the outbound platform on account of so much freight. The rollers did not work yesterday, and this caused much freight to collect. The pony gave several shifts of cars, and this enabled the men to clear the platform to some extent. The receipts during the day were very large, and an increase over the business of last week is shown.

Aiding Mr. Francis.

THE DRUMMER BOY

Presented at the Grand Last Evening by Home Talent.

The "Drummer Boy of Shiloh" last evening was presented at the Grand by home talent, under the auspices of the Sons of Veterans. The house was packed and long before the time for the curtain to rise standing room was being sold. While the play has been presented here many times before it was never better portrayed than last evening. Miss Maude McKinney, as the Drummer Boy, won hearty applause by her acting, while Miss Allie Laughlin took the part of "Jennie Howard" and sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and "A Vacant Chair" in a pleasing manner. Miss Laura Geon, as "Mrs. Rutledge," added greatly to the cast, and Miss Margaret Hamill sang "Break the News to Mother" in a splendid manner. William Hackworth, as "Farmer Eliott," was also very good, while the rest of the cast acquitted themselves in a splendid manner. The drill and camp fires were also pleasing features.

THE JAIL IS EMPTY.

No Arrests Were Made Yesterday Although Many Drunks Were Seen.

Although many drunks were seen on the streets yesterday afternoon and last night, no arrests were made, and the jail is without an occupant.

The hearing of Cash Allison, charged with disorderly conduct, will take place in council chamber this evening. The hearing is for the purpose of learning who threw the stone, last Saturday, which struck Officer White and badly injured his right leg below the knee. A number of witnesses have been summoned, but the hearing is expected to be a very short one. It will commence at 8 o'clock.

Wednesday night a resident of West End called at city hall and asked that several officers be sent to that part of the city to rid it of the tramps who annoy the residents. The mayor told him his case would be investigated.

THEY WILL QUIT.

A Rate War Has Been Averted on the River.

The steamboat war has been averted by the owners of the packets Urania and Argand agreeing to withdraw their boats from the trade in this end of the river. Under the circumstances it was thought best by the parties concerned, as much money would have been lost by the constant cutting of rates.

See the Drummer Boy of Shiloh 15c, 25c and 35c.

On the River.

The cold snap has had its effect on the river, and as a result a fall is registered. The marks at the wharf today registered 7.6 feet and falling. This is a fall of almost two feet since Wednesday.

ANOTHER STORY IS TOLD

Of the Alleged Troubles In the Eighth Ohio.

AN AKRON MAN IS QUOTED

As Saying That Major Weybrecht, Late Candidate For Congress, Did Call on Colonel Hard at the Request of a Number of Officers and Asked Him to Resign.

A dispatch sent out from Akron in regard to the round robin sent to Colonel Hard, of the Eighth regiment, is as follows:

"Officers of the Eighth regiment deny that Lieutenant Colonel Charles Dick the newly-elected congressman from the Nineteenth district, was asked to resign by the officers of the regiment, which was recently mustered out at Wooster. They, say, on the contrary, that if Colonel Hard resigns, Dick will be elected colonel, for he was immensely popular with officers and men during the period the regiment was in active service."

"Capt. H. O. Feederle, of Company B, gives the following story of the request made of Hard to resign:

"At a meeting, attended by 24 commissioned officers, Maj. C. O. Weybrecht, of Alliance, late Democratic candidate for congress in the Eighteenth district, was deputed to go to the colonel and request of him to resign. On doing this, Hard asked him who would be elected colonel, and Weybrecht replied that without doubt Dick would be. Hard did not give a final answer, but intimated that he would consider the matter. Colonel Dick said today that he had not been mixed up in the matter at all; that he had not been requested to resign, and that, on the contrary, several officers had assured him that in case of a vacancy he would be elected colonel."

IT WAS A SUCCESS.

The Social Given Last Evening at the Y. M. C. A.

The social given last evening at the Young Men's Christian association rooms was very largely attended, not less than 800 persons being present.

A very entertaining musical program was rendered, and Miss Jean Standish recited several very pleasing selections. The guests were then invited to the gymnasium which has been undergoing extensive improvements, and the classes, under the direction of Physical Director Roseborough, performed some very clever drill work. A light luncheon was served. During the evening President J. J. Purinton presented each member of the Ladies' auxiliary with a very handsome chrysanthemum.

BLOCKING SIDEWALKS.

The Practice of the Teamsters Should Be Stopped.

The practice of teamsters blocking sidewalks with their wagons should be stopped. There is hardly a day that a coal wagon is not backed across a sidewalk while the teamster unloads the coal, thus blocking the sidewalk for anywhere from 15 minutes to an hour. It is not only annoying to pedestrians, but is hard on the sidewalks, and the pavements of the city would be kept in much better condition if the practice was stopped.

STENCH OF BODIES.

Believed More Than Known Perished In the Baldwin Hotel Fire—Two Bodies Recovered.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—The dead body of J. M. Leighthead was removed from the ruins of the Baldwin hotel and an unrecognizable body, supposed to be that of a woman, was recovered from the ruins of the theater. The idea that there are many more bodies in the ruins is gaining credence, and the firemen engaged in searching the accessible part of the ruins reported that a terrible odor, such as follows the incineration of flesh, is gradually becoming apparent.

This is particularly true in the debris on the Ellis street side, where, it is believed, persons have been lost whose identity is unknown and who were not included in the list of guests. Four persons are known to be missing. They are:

John J. Carter, associate judge of the jockey club.

Tate Pryor, sheet writer for Bookmaker J. J. Carroll.

Andrews, cashier for the Baldwin grocer.

W. W. Bencheley, employe of restaurant.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—The body of Tate Pryor, the missing sheet writer for J. J. Carroll, racing bookmaker, was found in the ruins of the Baldwin hotel.

All of those reported missing have been found except Racing Judge J. J. Carter, and he is undoubtedly dead. This makes the list of victims four so far as known.

A TRAIN DERAILED.

One Person Was Killed and Others Injured, in Iowa.

BURLINGTON, Ia., Nov. 25.—Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern passenger train No. 6 was derailed six miles north of Burlington, while rounding a curve. The day coach, containing about 20 passengers, rolled over twice and landed right side up in a ditch 50 feet away. The Pullman left the rails, but was not dented.

Mrs. Catharine Davis, Columbus Junction, had her skull fractured and died later.

Amanda Harmes, 2 years old, child of August Harmes, Maxfield, Minn., had her back broken and was probably fatally hurt.

The severely injured were: Miss Estella Bowen, Buckhorn, Ills., hip fractured.

Mrs. A. E. Gates, Welcome, Minn., back injured.

Maria Fultonbauer, Hamburg, Minn., scalp wound.

Fifteen were slightly injured.

There are too many breccrakers who imagine they are 13 inch guns in society.—Atchison Globe.

TWO FOOTBALL GAMES

Were Played In the City Yesterday.

NO SCORES WERE MADE

The Entire Nons and High School Elevens Played a Good Game, But the Afternoon Contest Was the Worst Exhibition Ever Seen in the City.

The football games played yesterday in the city were well attended, despite the cold weather.

In the morning the Entire Nons club played a good game with the Wellsville high school eleven, and neither side scored, although the high school team showed the advantage of more practice. The game was free from any rough work, and was a very clean contest.

The afternoon game between Wellsville and Liverpool, presumably for the championship of the county, was the worst exhibition of football ever seen in the city, and to say that the spectators were disgusted would be putting it mildly.

Liverpool kicked off and the ball went behind the Wellsville goal line. The ball was brought to the middle of the field and again kicked off. It was caught by Smith, who gained a few yards before he was downed. Booth and Smith attempted end runs and made no gains, and then began to hit the center of the local team, which was very weak, owing to the absence of Stoffel and Humble. Then began a continual push, while the captain of the Wellsville eleven made everybody tired by his incessant kicking, delaying the game many minutes. The officials of the game knew almost nothing about the rules and their decisions were away off on many occasions while they made no attempt to stop the rough work. Wellsville succeeded in carrying the ball to the middle of the field, when they lost it on downs, and Hanley immediately went around the end for 25 yards and had it not been for the crowd would have scored a touchdown. This was the only end run of the game. Liverpool lost on downs, and the first half was over, with the ball in Wellsville territory.

Between the halves much money was wagered on the result of the game, and Wellsville people who were eager to bet had all their money covered. Humb'e got in the game and it was almost dark when the second half was called. Wellsville kicked off and Humble gained a few yards. Liverpool fumbled and Humble got the ball and again gained a few yards before he was downed. He and Booth came to blows, and the crowd surged on the field and it looked as though a free for all fight would take place, but order was finally restored, but the game did not proceed and McCurran picked up the ball and started for home, and the contest was over. After the game the spectators were still in an angry mood and numerous fights were narrowly averted.

The game probably means the end of Rugby football in the city, although the local team did not take part in the kicking and played a clean game of football.

The Rovers met defeat yesterday at East Pittsburg by a score of 3 to 1. The game was one sided in the first half and East Pittsburg scored two goals. In the second half the Rovers began to play hard, and in a few minutes had scored their only goal on a good shot by Jackson. The third goal for East Pittsburg was scored by Clark.
